

Interdimensional Communication

Bridging the Seen and Unseen Worlds

Interdimensional communication is the process of reaching beyond the physical world to connect with the realm of the unseen. Once considered unusual and reserved only for the few, it is now within everyone's ability. Simple, natural techniques will allow you to "talk" directly with those of a higher consciousness. You will make better decisions and more readily recognize opportunities that will advance your professional and personal life. Interdimensional Communication will save you time, increase your energy and change your concept of life and self, as you explore options and opportunities.

This workshop will open you to new vistas of awareness as you gain new insights into the truth of the nature of life. During this workshop your ability to communicate with the spirit realm will be tested and validated in countless ways. Spirit Communication is not for everyone—you must be ready for truth and feel worthy to receive it. This is a high energy, fun, action packed experience. No lectures, no breaks, just lots of activities. Bring your water, dress in layers, and get ready to learn how to:

- Discover four different spirit communication techniques & when each is most effective.
- Learn to pick up the cosmic phone and call the other side of life any time and any where.
- Discover the role your active intuition plays in the communication process.
- Connect with your own cosmic coaching team & access divine wisdom when you need or want it.
- Master the rules of Interdimensional safety.
- Understand the nature of dimensions and learn to safely traverse them.
- Strengthen your powers of discernment, trust, and faith.
- Gain greater confidence and competence in everything you do
