Unlocking the Secrets to Financial Health

Are you ready to tear off your blinders, face your issues, and walk in financial balance? Did you know your physical and spiritual relationship with/about money often determines whether your life is filled with abundance or scarcity? Money touches your life in countless ways and is often used as the measure of your worth as well as the symbol of your success. In this workshop you will journey back in time to see how unresolved past life issues are influencing your current financial attitudes, beliefs, decisions, and situation. There is an exact science of getting rich, but first you must remove the blocks that stand in your way. In this participatory workshop you will explore the relationship between your bounty and your beliefs. This workshop is not for everyone, it is intended for those who are serious about facing their core money issues—whether you see yourself as a hoarder, a blamer, or a financial victim, it will challenge old beliefs and assist you to...
